The Competitor / Official for the European Surf Rowing Championships acknowledges and agrees that:

- I am aware of the risk of personal injury inherent in surf boat racing
- I understand and appreciate the risk of personal injury inherent in surf boat racing;
- I am voluntarily participating in the training and the racing of surf boats without being coerced or included to train and race by anyone
- I acknowledge that whilst the ESRF rules of competition, equipment and personal discipline may reduce the risk of my suffering personal injury from surf boat rowing, the risk of personal injury still exists
- I accept and freely assume these risks personally and release the ESRF, their officers and agents, from any liability or responsibility from any personal injury I suffer during training or competition
- I shall act in a manner so as not to bring into disrepute, when training or competing or at any other time, the reputation of the ESRF or Surf Rowing in general
- I shall act in a manner to consider the interests and safety of other competitors, officials and spectators when involved in training of or racing of surfboats or at any event sanctioned by the ESRF.
- I am not forced to train or compete and if I feel that my personal safety is threatened in any way from my participation in training or competing for or in any ESRF sanctioned events, I shall not train or compete and I shall immediately bring my concerns to the attention of an official at the event.
- This release is binding not only on personal representatives but also on my next of kin, heirs, assigns and me
- I can swim unaided for a distance of 200 metres
- The possibility of being filmed notably by television, photographed or identified or recorded in any other way during the event under the conditions and for purposes currently or in the future authorised by ESRF in relation to the promotion of the event without any right to compensation.

I have read this acknowledgement and release and acknowledge that I fully understand its terms and sign it freely, voluntarily and without inducement.
